COURSE SUMMARY

In recent weeks, providers of orthotic and prosthetic (O&P) services have undergone significant transformations—changing how we communicate with our patients and referral sources, adapting to new demands for evaluations and delivery of care, and moving telehealth and remote consults from what was once seen as a luxury to a necessity.

TOPICS

- Strategies for maintaining employee and patient safety
- Preservation of essential services
- Tracking CDC resources/changes
- Envisioning reemergence, recognizing the at-risk demographics of our patients
